

The Drum Lab Presents

Movement and Drumming Workshop

Sat. April 7th 2pm - 4pm Cost: $15

Music educator David Oromaner will lead us through movement re-education then apply that to the drums. This workshop is intended for all drummers and will help with injury prevention as well as repetitive strain issues.

DAVID OROMANER is an alumnus of The Collective School of Music in NYC and also holds a bachelor's degree from University at Albany and a Masters in Education from Touro College in New York, and is a recipient of the prestigious Louis Armstrong Jazz Award. Some of the diverse artists David has performed with include Max Bennett, Llew Matthews (Nancy Wilson), Bob Quaranta (Mongo Santamaria), Mambo NYC, and PJ Loughran. As a drum instructor David specializes in technique and coordinated body movements. David is currently studying to teach the Alexander Technique at ATTIC in Chicago, IL. Call (949) 460-0054 or email thedrumlab@gmail.com to reserve a spot!
